

Law Enforcement and Community Trust in California
February 10, 2015
Room 4203

Morning Session – 9:30 - Noon

- I. Welcoming Remarks and Introductions
(10 minutes)
- II. The Numbers We Know: Statewide and Local Data and Information Collection Relating to Policing (30 minutes)
 1. Statewide Data Collection:
 - Julie Basco, Bureau Chief, Bureau of Criminal Information and Analysis, California Department of Justice
 2. Local Law Enforcement Data Collection:
 - Cathy Osgan, President, California Law Enforcement Association of Records Supervisors
- III. Promoting Trust and Confidence through Data: Additional Tools
(40 minutes)
 1. How a Data-Driven Approach Can Improve Police-Community Relations:
 - Jessica Saunders, Criminologist, RAND Corporation
 2. Implicit Bias and Policing:
 - Jack Glaser, Associate Dean, Goldman School of Public Policy , University of California, Berkeley
- IV. Investigating and Prosecuting Allegations of Officer Misconduct in California
(70 minutes)
 1. Process by which Officers are Investigated and Prosecuted for Misconduct:
 - Joey Esposito, Assistant District Attorney of Special Operations, Los Angeles County
 - Mike Durant, President, Peace Officers Research Association of California

2. Issues Encountered with Investigations of Officer Misconduct in California:

- Peter Bibring, Director of Police Practices, American Civil Liberties Union of California
- Judge LaDoris H. Cordell (Ret.), Independent Police Auditor, San Jose

Afternoon Session: 1:30 – 3:30 p.m.

V. Building Trust and Confidence between Law Enforcement and the Communities they Serve: Promising Practices and Unresolved Challenges (90 minutes)

1. Law Enforcement Perspective:

- Adam Christianson, Sheriff, County of Stanislaus
- Allwyn Brown, Deputy Chief, Richmond Police Department
- Phillip and Emada Tingirides, Los Angeles Police Department

2. Community Leader Perspective:

- Alice A. Huffman, President, California State Conference, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People
- Minister Bryson White, PICO California
- Jeannette Zanipatin, Legislative Staff Attorney, Mexican American Legal Defense and Educational Fund

3. A Dual Prospective:

- Jinho “The Piper” Ferreira, Author and Alameda County Sheriff’s Deputy

VI. Public Comment (30 minutes)